

Python is an easy-to-learn programming language used for web development, data analysis, automation, and more.

Key Concepts:

- Python is interpreted, high-level, and dynamically typed.
- Code blocks are defined using indentation.

Example:

```
print("Hello, World!")
```

This line outputs text to the screen.